

Feature	Google Drive (Google Workspace)	Dropbox Business	OneDrive (Microsoft 365 Business)
Starting Price	$7/user/month (Business Starter)	$15/user/month (Standard plan)	$6/user/month (Business Basic)
Storage	30 GB to 5 TB (depending on plan)	5 TB (Standard plan) or unlimited (Advanced plan)	1 TB per user (Basic) or 1–5 TB (Standard & Premium)
Included Apps	Gmail, Docs, Sheets, Slides, Meet	Dropbox Paper, HelloSign	Outlook, Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Teams
Collaboration Tools	Strong real-time collaboration (Docs, Sheets, Meet)	Decent; Dropbox Paper for notes	Deep Office integration, Teams for collaboration
Security Features	2FA, admin controls, Data Loss Prevention(advanced plans)	File recovery, granular permissions, 2FA	Microsoft Defender, encryption, retention policies
Ease of Use	Easy for Google ecosystem users	Simple UI, focused on file storage	Seamless for Windows and Office users
Offline Access	Yes (via Drive for desktop)	Yes (via desktop app)	Yes (integrated with Windows)
Integration	Best with Google ecosystem	3rd-party app integrations	Best with Microsoft tools
Pros	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Affordable starter plans - Excellent collaboration tools - Easy sharing and access 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Strong syncing - Smart sync & versioning - Good support 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Full Office suite - Deep Windows integration - Good security
Cons	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Limited storage in lower-tier plans - Can be less ideal outside Google tools 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - More expensive - Less collaboration features - Can get complex 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Storage limits on basic plans - Less intuitive UI for some